

Jarrold Compton

Director of Native American Financial Services, Bank of Oklahoma

Jarrold has over sixteen years of corporate finance experience in various roles including wealth management, treasury and investment management, and large corporate finance. Most recently, Jarrold spent eight (8) years managing a portfolio of large syndicated commercial accounts for BOK Financial. In 2016, Jarrold was asked to transition into a leadership role acting as the Director of BOK Financial's efforts within Indian Country out of its Oklahoma office. Jarrold has a Bachelor of Business Administration in Finance and Accounting from the University of Oklahoma and resides in Owasso, OK.

Will Reavis

Vice President, Native American Financial Services, Bank of Oklahoma

Will spent two years as a leveraged finance analyst for a NYC based financial institution assisting in structuring, originating and syndicating leveraged loans and high yield bonds before joining BOK Financial in 2015. As part of the loan syndications team at BOK Financial, Will was exposed to Indian Country through helping structure and syndicate large tribal transactions for the bank. He transitioned to the Native American Financial Services Group in 2016 where he has had an active role in all facets of the practice. Will has Bachelor of Arts in Economics from the University of Pennsylvania and resides in Tulsa, OK.